The Oregon Water Resources Department (OWRD) Deschutes Basin Groundwater Mitigation Program was identified as a work priority through the OWRD Deschutes Basin Workplan. Specifically, there is an interest in evaluating current laws and program rules to ensure continued alignment with the agency's mission.

Before evaluating potential updates to these laws and rules, staff aimed to clarify several topics that may be unclear or need refinement within the existing program. This work was completed in Phase 1 of the project and include OWRD recommendations on pathways forward for each topic identified for refinement.

At the January 26, 2024 Deschutes Basin Water Collaborative, OWRD staff will share the recommendations resulting from Phase 1 project work, as well as draft plans to evaluate the program in Phase 2. Staff are seeking feedback and questions on phase 1 recommendations and the phase 2 draft plan.

All materials will be posted to the Deschutes Basin Water Collaborative website by January 19, 2024.
